I am a Software Developer specialising in building full stack .Net applications. My background is rather varied: Maths, Computer Science, self-employment. I have settled on Software Development as a career, but I have found that my experience in other fields has helped me stand out a lot along the way. I am largely a generalist: less fussed about the language or framework and keener to use the best tools for the task at hand. In the past year, I have been mostly working on web-based projects in .Net on enterprise scale. Prior to that, I worked on some small JavaScript based projects using NodeJS for RESTful API, Ionic and Angular for front-end development. My other interests are data analysis, machine learning and Big Data, currently I am exploring these areas. I am a committed and driven MSC IT Graduate with sound understanding, experience of software development and its life cycles, I have abilities to utilize sound organisational and planning skills to deliver assignments within set time frames and to a high-quality standard.
